Editor of Research Journal

Joan Gordon begins her second 3-year term as Editor of the Home Economics Research Journal commencing in September, 1978, with Issue 1 of Volume 7. Dr. Gordon is a member of the Department of Food Science and Nutrition at the University of Minnesota.

Annual Meeting: 1978

"Home Economics: A Force of Families" is the theme of the 69th annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association to be held in New Orleans, June 26-29, 1978. The complete program was printed in the May 1978 Journal of Home Economics. The Borden Award for fundamental research in the field of nutrition and experimental foods will be presented at the opening general session on Monday, June 26 at 8:00 p.m.

Call for Research Papers for 1979 AHEA Annual Meeting

Purpose: To make significant results of home economics research studies known to other home economists and to the general public through oral reports, brief written summaries, and discussion.

Research topics: In general any research report which includes original unpublished findings and would be appropriate for publication in a professional journal is eligible for presentation as an oral report at the research reporting sessions. Articles such as reviews of literature, which by their nature do not lend themselves to brief oral reports, will not be accepted. The author should indicate under which of the following broad categories the abstract might best be considered:

1) Foods-Nutrition
2) Child and Family Development
3) Education
4) Clothing and Textiles
5) Housing and Near Environment
6) Economics, Management, and Consumer Affairs

Who may submit: Abstracts in these categories will be accepted only from current members of AHEA. In the case of multiple-authored reports, at least one author must be a member of the Association. No person may submit more than two abstracts as presenter or senior author.

Submission of papers: The submission shall consist of a maximum of one page, single spaced, containing the following information:
